

SNSWLHD Community Mental Health Services

Community Mental Health teams provide specialist mental health care in the community for people who experience acute and severe mental health illnesses and/or who have significant levels of risk to themselves or others. People with less acute conditions are seen by other services within the wider mental health system, including GPs, private practitioners and community managed organisations.

Community Mental Health teams treat people in the community, helping them manage their condition in their own environment, close to family and carers, social support networks and workplaces.

The Community Mental Health service is divided into three sub-specialties: Child and Adolescent services (working with people aged 2-17 years), Adult services (working with people aged 18-64 years), and Older Persons services (working with people aged 65+ years).

Additional services are provided by Community Managed Organisations (CMOs), who are contracted across Local Health District to provide a range of consumer and carer support services.

Community Mental Health teams provide services from Monday to Friday, 08.30am until 5:00pm. If you have any questions or enquiries, please contact your local team.
