Community members invited to attend Southern NSW Local Health District Annual Public Meeting

Southern NSW Local Health District is inviting members of the community to its Annual Public Meeting (APM) at 2.00pm on Thursday, 3 November at the Royal Hotel in Queanbeyan.

The APM will include presentations from the Acting Board Chair, Beth Hoskins and Chief Executive Margaret Bennett, as well as updates from the District's COVID-19 Controller and executive leadership team.

Dr Arnagretta Hunter, a physician and cardiologist from the Australian National University's Climate Change Institute, will give a guest presentation titled Life, death and our human future.

Margaret Bennett encouraged interested community members to attend, and to send in questions ahead of the event.

"The APM is an opportunity for us to share Southern NSW Local Health District's recent achievements, future plans and community updates.

"It will be wonderful to welcome in-person guests to this year's meeting after two years of online APMs due to COVID-19 restrictions," Ms Bennett said.

Anyone wishing to attend should register for a free ticket via Eventbrite:
